

Benjamin Ang is Senior Fellow and Head of the Centre of Excellence for National Security (CENS) at RSIS. He leads the Cyber and Homeland Defence Programme of CENS, which explores policy issues around areas including the cyber domain, international cyber norms, cyber threats and conflict, strategic communications and disinformation, and national security issues in disruptive technology.

Prior to this, he had a multi-faceted career that included time as a litigation lawyer arguing commercial cases, IT Director and General Manager of a major Singapore law firm, and as an in-house legal counsel in a transmedia company.

Benjamin graduated from Law School at the National University of Singapore and has an MBA and Masters of Science in Management Information Systems from Boston University. He is qualified as an Advocate and Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Singapore. Benjamin also serves on the Executive Committee of the Internet Society Singapore Chapter, and as an Advisor for Cyber Youth Singapore.